

North West Film Archive

The North West Film Archive (NWFA) makes footage from its exciting collection available to media production companies via a professional access service which is prompt, efficient and competitively-priced. Material is supplied subject to third-party permissions.

Footage has appeared in hundreds of television broadcasts including, most recently, Edwardian Life In Colour, Who Do You Think You Are?, The One Show, Imagine, Match Of The Day, and A House Through Time.

A major investment in facilities supports in-house provision of broadcast-standard telecine to DigiBeta or HDCam including standard 8mm and 9.5mm film.

NWFA KEY CONDITIONS

- In order to qualify for the Discount Rate, an on-screen credit must be given worded:
North West Film Archive at Manchester Metropolitan University
 Non-compliance will result in the application of the Full Rate and an addition of 50% to all service charges.
- When payments to copyright holders and/or donors are required these are in addition to the Archive's charges. Where copyright holders are not known, the Producer will indemnify the NWFA against any claims arising from use of the material.
- All lab costs will be borne by the client, as will special delivery charges, and any extraordinary expenses e.g. taxis. Material lost or damaged must be replaced at the client's expense. Failure to return a NWFA editing tape will incur a penalty of £250 per title supplied.
- Enquiries requiring supply within 5 working days will incur a premium of 50% on service charges. Same day supply will incur a premium of 100%.
Note: all other terms and conditions of supply must be met as usual.

NWFA reserves the right to:

- Refuse access to material due to preservation considerations.
- Require a substantial deposit/credit card payment in advance of service provision.
- Limit the number of enquiries handled, depending on staff availability.
- Stipulate that all material not used in the production shall be erased or returned to the NWFA (proof of erasure will be required).
- Make a charge for the issue of a new contract for use of material supplied for another production.
- Record off-air programmes using NWFA material (for reference).
- View a copy of the finished production (as broadcast or distributed).
